Commissioners in Doubt as to Legality of Death Edict Against Meandering Felines.

The efforts of the Washington Cat Club to have the edict that all stray cats shall Charity Baseball Game to Be Played be impounded and put to death repealed Next Saturday. is meeting with much more success than the members had hoped for.

When the protests reached the Com-missioners, they did not retract the edict, but they have referred the matter to Corporation Counsel Thomas for his opin-ion as to the legal points involved. Even should Mr. Thomas decide the edict legal, the cat fanciers of Washington will not accept his ruling as final. This course is apparent from letters received yesterday by members of the cat club, from Mrs. Henry L. West, President of the organization. The letter invites all the members of the club to attend an indignation meet-ing, to be held in Mrs. West's apartents in the Octavia, where formal protest against the impounding of pet fe-lines will be made.

The District officials have met an-other stumbling block. Even should the edict go into effect, Emil Kuhn, poundmaster of the District, declares that he is at a loss as to how he is going to catch the cats. There is much danger that the order will be a "dead issue" even should it
